1. The role of the shareholders and their interaction with the management of the company

The company's shareholders, employees and other stakeholders have a joint interest in the company always being capable of adjusting to changing demands, which allows the company to continue to be competitive and to create value. Positive interaction between management and shareholders is therefore essential. Shareholder influence is exercised at the general meeting. As owners of the company, the shareholders should actively exercise their rights and use their influence resulting in the management protecting the interests of the shareholders as best as possible and ensuring an appropriate and balanced development of the company both in the short and the long term.

Good corporate governance depends on appropriate frameworks which make it easy for the shareholders to enter into a dialogue with the management of the company. This can be encouraged by ensuring that the shareholders are always well-informed of the company's situation and outlook and that the general meeting serves as a forum for communication and discussion and is the place where shareholders express their views and make decisions.

1.1. Dialogue between the company and its shareholders
1.1.1. The Committee recommends that the central governing body, for example through investor relations activities, ensure an ongoing dialogue between the company and its shareholders in order that the central governing body knows the shareholders' attitude, interests and views in relation to the company and that investor relations material be made available to all investors on the company's website.			Greentech Energy Systems A/S gives high priority to the contact to shareholders and potential investors. All investor relations material is moreover published on the Company's website immediately after the Company's participation in large investor meetings.

1.2. Capital and share structures

1.2.1. The Committee recommends that the central governing body every year evaluate whether the company's capital and share structures continue to be in the interests of the shareholders and the company and account for this evaluation in the management commentary in the annual report and/or on the company's website. Comment: For the purpose of this recommendation, capital and share structures mean the size of the share capital, the denomination, number of share classes and the voting rights attached to the share classes, including restrictions on voting rights, the right to dividend, the distribution between equity financing and loan capital financing, treasury shares, share buy-backs etc. The central focus of the evaluation is to make sure that the company is adequately capitalised and ensure adequate liquidity of the share and a reasonable distribution of risk and influence.	√		As an integral part of its work, the Board of Directors regularly assesses the most expedient capital and share structure. The Company's Board of Directors wants to ensure continuously improved liquidity of the Company's share, which the Board anticipates to be enabled by a continuously improved information level, implementation of a new strategy as well as an increase in the number of national and international institutional investors.

1.3. General meeting

1.3.1. The Committee recommends that the supreme governing body and the executive board promote active ownership, including shareholders' attendance at general meetings.	√		General meetings are convened according to the articles of association. The agenda are drawn up in such a way that the shareholders are provided with a satisfactory picture of the matters included in the points of the agenda. The individual items on the agenda are supplemented by a report at the general meeting. The Annual General Meeting of Greentech is a genuine forum for communication and discussion and the venue for shareholders to express their views and take decisions.
---	----------	--	---

1.3.2. The Committee recommends that the central governing body resolve or submit to the general meeting the question whether the general meeting shall be conducted by physical attendance or as a partly or entirely electronic general meeting. Comment: Electronic general meetings enable shareholders to participate in a general meeting even though they are prevented from attending in person. A partly general meeting is a meeting that is open to either physical or electronic attendance by shareholders.	√		The Board of Directors monitors on an on-going basis the technological developments and the possibility to conduct a full or partly electronic general meetings. Currently the Board of Directors does not find this relevant.
1.3.3. The Committee recommends that proxies given to the supreme governing body allow shareholders to consider each individual item on the agenda.	√		Proxies given to the Board of Directors are only given for one general meeting at a time. The Company's Board of Directors is notified in writing about any proxies. Unless otherwise requested by the shareholder, the shareholder's position on each individual item on the agenda is indicated in the proxy.
1.3.4. The Committee recommends that all members of the supreme governing body and the executive board be present at the general meeting.	√		The management of the Company will actively endeavour to ensure that all members of the Board of Directors/Management are present at ordinary general meetings other than in exceptional circumstances.
1.4. Takeover bids
1.4.1. The Committee recommends that the central governing body, from the moment it obtains knowledge that a takeover bid will be submitted, do not, without the acceptance of the general meeting, attempt to counter the takeover bid by making decisions which in reality prevent the shareholders from deciding on the takeover bid. Comment: It is not important how the central governing body obtains knowledge that a takeover bid will be submitted. Knowledge may be obtained before the offer or publishes the	√		The Board of Directors often discusses how the optimum shareholder structure should be and in principle, the Board of Directors believes that substantial changes in this respect should be presented at the general meeting to the extent possible, including any takeover bids.

decision to submit a takeover bid. The central governing body will not be in conflict with the recommendation if it seeks alternative (competing) takeover bids.
1.4.2. The Committee recommends that the central governing body give the shareholders the opportunity to decide whether or not they wish to dispose of their shares in the company under the terms offered.	√		Within the duties of the Board of Directors it shall comment the offer to inform to the extent possible all shareholders of the offer, but will not limit in anyway whatsoever the shareholders decision in matter of takeover bids.

2. The role of stakeholders and their importance to the company and the company's corporate social responsibility

In order for a company to be able to adjust readily to changing demands and thus stay competitive and deliver value-adding performance, it is essential for the company to have, in addition to the dialogue with its shareholders, a good relationship with its stakeholders.

4.1.4 The Committee recommends that the supreme governing body annually discuss the company's activities to ensure diversity at management levels, including equal opportunities for both sexes, and that the supreme governing body set measurable objectives and in the management commentary in the annual report and/or on the company's website give an account of both the objectives and the progress made in achieving the objective. Comment: It would be appropriate to prepare action plans describing how the company addresses diversity at management levels, for example the company's efforts to increase female representation at management levels in general. Specific diversity objectives should be set, for example requirements for the proportion of women at specific management levels.	√		Because Greentech is present in six countries, employment in Greentech is based on competences, abilities and results and is independent of race, colour, ethnic background, nationality, social background, gender, religion, age, political views or sexuality. Greentech encourages diversity, as Greentech believes this increases innovation and strengthens the culture of the Company. The Board of Directors will on a yearly basis discuss the diversity of the Company and in the Annual Report 2011 a specification of the diversity in relation to age, gender and experience is included. The Board of Directors has not set up measurable objectives or activities to ensure equal opportunities for both sexes as it believes that employment in Greentech, also at management levels, is based on merits and not gender.
4.2. Procedures

4.3. The chairman and deputy chairman of the supreme governing body
The most important tasks of the chairman of the supreme governing body normally include scheduling of meetings for the year, preparation of agenda for the meetings and chairing of the meetings. The chairman shall also ensure that the members currently update and improve their knowledge of the company and that the special knowledge and skills of each individual member are used in the best possible manner and to the benefit of the company. Moreover, the chairman is responsible for promoting good and constructive relations between the members of the supreme governing body and with the executive board as well as efficient communication including with shareholders.
4.3.1. The Committee recommends that a deputy chairman of the supreme governing body be appointed, who must be able to act in the chairman's absence and also act as an effective sounding board for the chairman.	√		The Board of Directors has elected a chairman and a deputy chairman. The role of the deputy chairman is in accordance with the recommendations and the rules of procedure for the Board of Directors.
4.3.2. The Committee recommends the preparation of a scope of work and task list specifying the tasks, duties and responsibilities of the chairman and deputy chairman.	√		In the rules of procedure for the Board of Directors the tasks and responsibilities of the chairman and deputy chairman are enclosed.

4.3.4. The Committee recommends that, if the board of directors in exceptional cases asks its chairman to perform special tasks for the company, including briefly participate in the day-to-day management, a board resolution to that effect should be passed and precautions taken to ensure that the board of directors will maintain responsibility for the overall manage-	√		The chairman will only perform special tasks for the Company according to special consent given by the Board of Directors. Information about agreements on the chairman's participation in the day-to-day management and the expected duration hereof must be disclosed in a company announcement. Comment: This recommendation is only of relevance to boards of directors as the chairman of a supervisory board is not allowed to perform tasks for the company that do not form part of the chairman's office. An agreement regulating the chairman's discharge of special tasks must contain provisions on the special precautions taken to protect the distribution of roles and responsibilities between the members of the board of directors and between the board of directors and the executive board.

5. Composition and organisation of the supreme governing body

In companies where the board of directors constitutes the supreme governing body, the board of directors should be composed in such a way as to allow it to perform its managerial tasks, including overall and strategic tasks.

It is essential that the supreme governing body of a company be composed in such a way as to ensure effective performance of its control tasks and, at the same time, ensure a constructive and qualified dialogue with the executive board. It is also essential that the members of the supreme governing body always act independently of special interests.

The supreme governing body should regularly assess whether its composition and the skills of its members, individually and collectively, reflect the demands posed by the company's situation and circumstances. Diversity may improve the quality of the work performed by the supreme governing body. To increase value creation, the supreme governing body should carry out an evaluation of its members every year and ensure integration of new talent while maintaining continuity.

5.1. Composition
5.1.1. The Committee recommends that the supreme governing body annually specify the skills it must have to best perform its tasks and that the specification be posted on the website. Proposals for the nomination/replacement of members of the supreme governing body to be submitted to the general meeting should be prepared in the light hereof.	√		Greentech Energy Systems A/S focuses on having a Board of Directors that is able to inspire and support the Company's Management through a relevant and differentiated composition of skills. The relevant skills are described on the Company's website. Hence, the current Board of Directors represents skills within: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Renewable energy production • Power distribution • Financing • Communication with the equity market • Cleantech Asset Management • Local conditions at the focus market • Environment • Hydro.
5.1.2. The Committee recommends that the supreme governing body ensure a formal, thorough and transparent process for selection and nomination of candidates to the supreme governing body. 5.1.3. The Committee recommends that a description of the nominated candidates' qualifications, including information about other executive functions, e.g. memberships of executive boards, boards of directors and supervisory boards, including board committees, held by the candidates in both Danish and foreign companies as well as information on demanding organisational tasks should accompany the notice convening the general meeting when election of members to the supreme governing body is on the agenda. Comment: The description may contain information about the recruitment criteria established by the supreme governing body, including the requirements for professional qualifications, knowledge of the industry, international experience, educational background etc., which represent essential qualities with regard to the supreme governing body.		×	In notifications of general meetings containing proposal of re-election of the present Board of Directors, reference is made to Greentech's website for information on the individual candidates. The Company finds that, in this case, the candidate descriptions result in an excessive amount of content in the notice. At future elections of new board members, Greentech Energy Systems A/S will publish a detailed description of the candidates, including their qualifications and other executive functions together with the notification of the general meeting.
5.1.4. The Committee recommends that every year, the annual report contain an account of the composition of the supreme governing body, including its diversity, and of any special skills possessed by the individual members.	√		The composition of Greentech Energy Systems A/S' Board of Directors and the qualifications of each board member are described in the annual report and on the Company's website.
5.2. Training of members of the supreme governing body
5.2.1. The Committee recommends that new members joining the supreme governing body be given an introduction to the company.	√		Immediately upon taking office new members of the Board will receive a thorough presentation of the Company and the Board of Directors will regularly consider potential supplementary updating, if so required.

5.2.2. The Committee recommends that the supreme governing body annually assess whether the skills and expertise of its members need to be updated. Comment: The chairman, together with the individual member, decide whether it is necessary to offer the member in question relevant supplementary training.	√		The chairman of the Board and the individual board members each year assess, through an informal assessment, the need for introducing the board member in professional issues in the fields of e.g.: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Project development • Project management • Project financing • The energy market.
5.3. Number of members of the supreme governing body
5.3.1. The Committee recommends that the supreme governing body have only so many members as to allow a constructive debate and an effective decision-making process enabling all members to play an active role.	√		The Board of Directors of Greentech Energy Systems A/S consists of five members who are all elected by the general meeting. The size has been determined on the basis of a wish to represent the relevant skills and to ensure an effective decision-making process.

The Committee recommends that in connection with the preparation for each year's general meeting, the supreme governing body consider whether the number of members is appropriate in relation to the requirements of the company.	√		Prior to the general meeting, the Board of Directors assesses the need for adjusting the number of board members, in accordance with its rules of procedure.
5.4. The independence of the supreme governing body
5.4.1. In order for the members of the supreme governing body to act independently of special interests, the Committee recommends that at least half of the members elected by the general meeting be independent persons. The independent supreme governing body member may not: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • be, or have been within the last five years, a member of the exec- 	√		Except for Luca Rovati, who represents the largest shareholder of Greentech Energy Systems, all board members are considered independent with no special interests in the Company, except as shareholders. Under the Board of Directors' rules of procedure, no board member may take part in dealing with issues concerning an agreement between the Company and the board member in question. Other factors determine the question of independence, including whether the person in question is a member of the governing body of or has close ties to the company's major shareholder. Cross-memberships of governing bodies are seen where a member of the supreme governing body of company A is a member of the executive board of company B, at the same time as a member of the supreme governing body of company B is a member of the executive board of company A. 5.5. Members of the supreme governing body elected by the employees
5.5.1. 5.6. Meeting frequency
5.6.1. The Committee recommends that the supreme governing body meet at regular intervals according to a predetermined meeting and work schedule or when meetings are deemed necessary or appropriate as required by the company and that the number of meetings held be disclosed in the annual report.	√		The Board of Directors meets according to a schedule of five annual meetings. 5.7. Expected time commitment and the number of other executive functions
5.7.1. The Committee recommends that each member of the supreme governing body assess the expected time commitment for each function in order that the member does not take on more functions than he/she can manage in a satisfactory way for the company. Comment: The assessment should take into account the number of and scope of committee appointments. The Board of Directors, however, does not believe that this constitutes a limit to their commitment to Greentech Energy Systems A/S, as the Board of Directors believes that the scope of work associated with the board member's directorships should decide whether they can perform their board duties in Greentech Energy Systems A/S and not the number of directorships held.

5.7.2. The Committee recommends that the annual report contain the following information about the members of the supreme governing body: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the member's occupation, • the member's other executive functions, e.g. memberships of executive boards, boards of directors and supervisory boards, including board committees, in Danish and foreign companies as well as demanding organisational tasks, and • the number of shares, options, warrants, etc. that the member holds in the company and its consolidated companies and any changes in such holdings during the financial year. 	√		Greentech Energy Systems A/S' Board of Directors, including the position, other managerial functions in Danish or foreign companies and shareholdings of the individual board members, is described in detail in the annual report.
5.8. Retirement age
5.8.1. The Committee recommends that the company's articles of association fix a retirement age for members of the supreme governing body and that the annual report contain information on such retirement age as well as the age of each member of the board of directors.		×	In the articles of association of the Company, no retirement age has been fixed for members of the Board of Directors, whose age is disclosed in the annual report. The Company's Board of Directors finds that age is not of importance in terms of performing board duties. 6. Remuneration of members of the governing bodies

Openness and transparency about all important issues regarding the principles for and amounts of the total remuneration offered to members of the governing bodies are essential. The principles of the remuneration policy should support a long-term value-creation for the company.

Competitive remuneration is a prerequisite for attracting and retaining competent members of the governing bodies. The total remuneration package, i.e. the fixed and variable components and other remuneration components, should be reasonable and reflect the governing body members' independent performance, responsibilities and value creation in the company. The variable component of the remuneration should be based on actual achievements over a period of time with a view to long-term value creation.
